HISTORICAL NOTE

Cumberland University has had a long and enviable history, having entered upon its career in 1842. Since that time it has sent out twenty-three college presidents, sixty college professors, sixty congressmen, seven United States senators, fifteen governors of states, two justices of the United States Supreme Court, one hundred and sixty district judges, twelve Federal judges, and forty justices of State Supreme Courts. Twelve hundred ministers have been numbered among its former students. Its eighteen thousand matriculates and six thousand graduates have come from all parts of the South and Southwest, in fact, twenty-two states of the Union and seven foreign countries have been represented.

The Law School was created as a department of Cumberland University on the ninth day of January, 1847, or, to be more accurate, on that day the Board of Trustees took the first step, by resolution, looking to the establishment of same. At various subsequent sittings of the board the plan of organization was perfected, and in the month of October, 1847, the first term opened, with one professor and seven students present. Judge Abram Caruthers was the professor. He resigned his seat upon the bench of the State to accept the position. His name has passed into history as one of the ablest judges who ever presided in the courts of the State. His opening address attracted wide attention, and was copied and commented upon in many of the legal publications throughout the country. He assailed and utterly discredited the old system of teaching by lectures, and insisted that the science of law should be taught like any other science—like mathematics or chemistry.

The school was at once a success. Judge N. Green, Senior, then one of the Supreme Judges of the State, was called to assist Judge Caruthers in the conduct of the school in 1852. He resigned his position on the bench to do so. Shortly thereafter, N. Green, Junior, was elected a professor, the prosperity of the school requiring the services of three instructors. These three gentlemen continued as the faculty until the beginning of the Civil War in 1861. At that time there were one hundred and eighty law students in attendance. Judge Abram Caruthers died during the war. Judge N. Green, Senior, survived the war and assisted his son, N. Green, Junior, in the revival of the school, but died, at an advanced age and full of honors, in 1866. He was succeeded that year by the Hon. Henry Cooper, and two years thereafter, Judge Cooper having resigned, Judge Robert L. Caruthers, who was for many years on the Supreme Bench of the State, was elected to fill the vacancy. He resigned in 1881 because of advancing years and feeble health, and Dr. Andrew B. Martin succeeded him, serving until his death, May 19, 1920.

Judge Nathan Green, Junior, after having taught as a professor in the Law School for more than sixty years, died on February 17, 1919. He was succeeded by Judge Edward E. Beard, who served until his death, June 18, 1924.

In July, 1920, W. R. Chambers was selected as the successor of Dr. Martin, and in October, 1923, Judge Albert Williams was selected as a professor of law.

This is among the oldest law schools of the South, and its success from the beginning has been unparalleled by any other similar institution. Thousands of young men have here received instruction in the law. They are to be found in every section of the country and in every honorable station for which professional training fits them. Some have reached the bench of the "greatest court on earth," the Supreme Court of the United States, and many are or have been Chief Executives of states and members of both houses of the United States Congress. Indeed, wherever found, in public or private station, on the bench or at the bar, their successful careers, attributable in some degree, to the systematic training received here, are giving prestige to their Alma Mater.

No law school in the country within the first half century of its existence has furnished the profession a more honorable and worthy body of graduates than has this school, and it is with commendable and natural pride that the institution now points to the record of these distinguished sons.

WOMEN ARE ADMITTED to the same classes with men as students. The course, being thoroughly practical, prepares the student either to practice law, or to conduct other business according to law.

PLAN OF INSTRUCTION

It is only by exercising the energies of his own mind that a student can qualify himself for the bar. Any plan which would propose to make a lawyer of him without his doing the hard work for himself would be idle and visionary. The virtue of any plan of instruction must consist of two things:

1. That it cause the student to work, or, in other words, to study diligently.

To accomplish this the student is given a portion of the text as a lesson every day, on which he is examined the next day. He is required to answer in the presence of the whole class, questions upon the lessons thus assigned. If he has any spirit in him, or pride of character, this will insure the closest application of which he is capable. Neither the old plan of studying in a lawyer's office nor the old law-school plan of teaching by lectures has anything in it to secure application. The student is brought to no daily examination to test his proficiency. There is not the presence of a large class in which he has to take rank, either high or low. All that is calculated to stimulate him to constant, laborious application is wanting in both these plans. We suppose no young man would from choice adopt the office plan as the best mode of acquiring a knowledge of law, and yet the law-school lecture system is no better. The law is in the textbook. The professor can no more make the law than the student himself. Every subject upon which a lecture could be given has been exhausted by the ablest professors and printed in books after the most careful revision by the authors. The faculty regard it as an imposition on students and as presumptuous on their part to pretend that they could improve upon the standard text writers who have given to the public, in printed form and acceptable to all, lectures on every branch of the law. It is better for the student to occupy his time in learning, with assistance, what others have written, than in learning from anything we could write. If this mode of teaching is more difficult to the professor, it is much more profitable to the student.

2. The plan should not only make a student work, but it ought so to guide and direct him as to make him work to the greatest advantage.

A man may work very hard, but still so unwisely that he will accomplish little. It is equally so with the farmer, the mechanic, and the law student. The student ought to have such a course of study assigned to him, and be conducted through it in such a way, that he will understand at the end of his course the greatest amount of pure, living American law, and will know best how to apply it in practice.

The duty of the professor in this school is to conduct the daily examination of students upon the lessons assigned them; to direct their minds to what is most important in the textbooks; to teach them what is and what is not settled; to correct the errors into which they may fall; to dispel the darkness that hangs upon many passages. This is necessary every day and at every step of their progress.

Moot Courts

The law is a vast science, and a very difficult one; and the student needs every possible facility to enable him, by the most arduous labor, to comprehend its leading elementary principles. But this is not all he has to do. He has to learn how to apply these principles in practice. This is the art of his profession, and he can only learn it by practice. It is as necessary a preparation for assuming the responsibilities of a lawyer as the learning of the science. If he learns it at the bar, it is at the expense of his client; if he learns it in the school, it is at his own expense.

The advantage of the Moot Court System is that it not only imbues a student with the elementary principles of law involved in his cases, but also with a knowledge of the law of remedies. It trains him also in the discussion of facts, and to the exercise of that faculty which is so important in real practice.

Practice in Moot Court forms a part of the plan of instruction. Every student is required to bring suits in the forms adapted to all our courts, and to conduct them to final hearing. The students act as attorneys, jurors, clerks and sheriffs.

THE REGULAR ONE-YEAR COURSE OF STUDY

This has been selected with care from the best works of the best American authors. It begins with the rudiments, and extends to every department of law and equity which may be of any practical benefit in this country, and is designed to prepare the student for an immediate entrance upon the active duties of his profession.

It covers about ten thousand pages of living law, and is as comprehensive as some courses requiring two years' study in other law schools. The period which we allow for its completion might be extended, at additional expense of time and money to the students; but we know from long experience that, with the assistance and under the direction of the Faculty, it can be thoroughly accomplished in nine months, and that by requiring this to be done we prepare young men to receive a license to practice, and enable them in the shortest time, and at the least expense, to begin the work of life.

From the vast variety of legal topics, the law of which is taught in this course, the following may be mentioned:

Husband and Wife, Marriage and Divorce, Parent and Child, Guardian and Ward, Master and Servant, Pleading and Practice in Courts of Law, Pleading and Practice in Courts of Equity, Principal and Agent, Partnership, Factors, and Brokers; Bailments, Railways and Other Common Carriers; Administrators and Executors and Probate of Wills; Trustees, Guaranty and Suretyship; Sales, Warranties, Negotiable Instruments, Contracts, Corporations, Torts, Damages, Mortgages; Marine, Fire and Life Insurance; Equity Jurisprudence, Criminal Law and Procedure, Real Property, Evidence, Dower, Landlord and Tenant, Constitutional Law, Copyrights, Patents, Trademarks, Legal Ethics, etc.

Textbooks

The above enumeration shows also the order in which the course is pursued.

The right to substitute other textbooks for any of the above texts is reserved.

Anticipating a very frequent inquiry, the retail price of each book is here given, to wit:

Prices

History of a Lawsuit	$ 7.50
Cooley on Torts	6.00
Clark on Corporations	4.50
Hughes on Evidence	4.50
Barton's Suit in Equity	3.00

It is greatly to the advantage of the student to secure the latest edition of each of these books. The fifth edition of the History of a Lawsuit is essential, and nothing older than the sixth edition of Parsons on Contracts can be used.

The books for the entire course may be bought in Lebanon at the prices stated above, or, if the student should prefer not to purchase, most of the books for either class can be rented.

It must be remembered that the books used in this school are the regular textbooks of the profession, and will always be needed in practice, and, when once bought, will last a lifetime.

Not a Lecture School

Remember, this is not a lecture school. The law of the textbook is assigned as a lesson to the student, and actually read by him, and he is examined daily in the classroom on what he has read.

No Correspondence Course

No correspondence course is offered, nor will credit be given for such work done elsewhere.

Time Required

Each class (Junior or Senior) requires a period of 18 weeks, or one semester. The student, on entering the Junior Class, studies the books of that class for one semester of 18 weeks and then, passing to the Senior Class, studies the books of that class for another semester of 18 weeks. Thus is completed the entire course of 36 weeks, or one scholastic year.

When the Term Begins

The next semesters will begin the second Monday in September, 1930, and the fourth Monday in January, 1931. There are both Junior and Senior classes beginning with each semester, and students may enter at the opening of either semester. There is a graduating class at the close of each semester—one in January, the other in June. The next Summer Course will begin June 8, 1931.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

Every one, entering to study for the degree of Bachelor of Laws, should have at least a high school education or its equivalent.

The applicant must present his high school and college credits to the Registrar of the University two weeks before the beginning of the semester he expects to enter. In addition, the applicant must present a letter of recommendation from an alumnus of Cumberland University or a prominent professional or business man. If he transfers from another college or university, a letter of honorable dismissal is required.

No student will be enrolled or allowed the privileges of the classroom until he has paid in full the tuition and other fees of the particular class which he desires to enter. Partial payments will not be accepted. Students must come prepared to comply with this rule.

No one will be admitted to the Senior Class with a view to graduation except such as have satisfactorily completed the Junior course here.

Students who do not intend to graduate may enter at any time, and in either class.

Examinations

There are no entrance examinations, but, in addition to the daily recitation in the classroom, the student is required to pass a written examination upon each book on its completion; and from his grading on such examinations, together with his standing at class recitation, and his earnestness and fidelity in prosecuting his studies, the Faculty determine his fitness for graduation. Absence from recitations or disorderly conduct will lower the grade. An assembly of the students of the University is held weekly, and law students along with all others are expected to attend.

For late examination a fee of $1.00 will be charged.

A record of grades and the absences of all Law students is kept in the office of the Registrar.

When to Enter

It is desirable that students enter on the first day of each semester. A degree will not be conferred on any student entering after October 1, until he shall have made up the lost time during a subsequent school year; or after February 16, of the spring semester. Lost time may be made up by taking the summer course.

Results

A graduate of the Cumberland Law School has had the benefit of a year's reading of solid law, and the experience of a year's practice in the Moot Court. As a result, he is well grounded in a knowledge of legal principles; how to prepare his case for trial, how to try it, how to prepare a brief, how to deliver an argument on the facts and on the law. The very thorough and practical manner of teaching law in this Law School insures such results to every earnest young man who passes through its course and receives its diploma.

Diploma and License

A diploma conferring the degree, Bachelor of Laws, will be given all graduates of the school. But to become a graduate, the student must satisfactorily accomplish the entire course prescribed, by study and recitation here, in the regular order, and under the immediate direction of the Faculty. No exception to this rule will be allowed. Neither previous reading, privately nor in other schools, nor reading here, in advance of the progress of the class, by doubling, shall in any wise excuse compliance with this requirement. The entire course must be completed here.

By order of the Trustees of the University, diplomas are to be awarded to those students only who are present on graduation day, providential causes alone excusing absence.

To obtain a license in Tennessee to practice law, all applicants must pass an examination before the State Board of Law Examiners. The course of study prescribed here, if accomplished under the direction of the Faculty, prepares the young man, in the shortest time possible and at the least expense, for that examination.

Student's Life and Conduct

This institution will not grant a degree to any student whose conduct while here does not warrant the Faculty in believing him to be of good moral character.

Expenses

Tuition per semester (in advance)	$100.00
University fee (in advance), per semester	10.00
Student body fee	10.00
Library fee (in advance), per semester	12.50
Diploma fee (for Seniors)	5.00

The College Dormitory

The price of board in the college dormitories will be $167.50 for the school year, one-half of this amount to be paid at the beginning of each of the two semesters.

Law students may secure rooms and board in the dormitory under the same rules and regulations applicable to Academic students. Those desiring to reserve room at the dormitory should send a deposit of $5.00, in advance, making check payable to Cumberland University. Students rooming elsewhere may board at the dormitory.

Those coming in after the opening of the semester, those who leave before the close of the semester, and those who elect to do so, will pay by the calendar month, at the rate of $20.00 per month, in advance. There will be no deduction for Christmas holidays. Board in the dormitories during the Christmas holidays will be 25 cents per day extra.

There will be no deduction for table board except for continuous absence of two weeks.

Estimate of Expense

The following table in two columns exhibits a reasonable estimate of all necessary expenses:

	JUNIOR	SENIOR
Tuition	$100.00	$100.00
University fee	10.00	10.00
Library fee	12.50	12.50
Student activities	10.00	----
Rent of books	13.50	12.50
Diploma fee	----	5.00
Board in advance, per semester	83.75	83.75
Room rent, in advance, per semester	32.50	32.50
Estimated total	$262.25	$256.25

The room rent, which includes the cost of fuel and lights, is payable strictly in advance for the semester. The charge for a double room is $32.50 per semester for each student. Each student is required to sign a regular lease for his room.

Electric light will be furnished to the extent of sixty watts in a single room, or two forty watts lights in a double room. Lights in excess of this amount of current must be arranged at the office and paid for by the students.

Students in the dormitory must furnish their own toilet articles, electric lamps and bulbs, four single sheets for 3x6-foot beds, one pillow, two pillow cases, and necessary blankets; also table napkins.

Light Housekeeping

Students expecting to do light housekeeping should bring their pillows, bed-clothes, rugs and table linen, and should not bring dogs. Either rooms or small houses can be leased.

Location

Lebanon is one of the oldest towns in Middle Tennessee, and celebrated its centennial in 1902. It has been an educational center throughout its history, and now has a population of about 6,000. The University is the chief enterprise of the town, and as a result, the citizens are deeply interested in its prosperity. They accord to the student a hearty welcome.

Library

A large and valuable law library for the use of law students is open every day in the week, Sundays excepted. It is located in the law building in a comfortably furnished room, well lighted and heated. It contains over 6,000 volumes. Special mention may be made of the National Reporter and Digest Systems, Corpus Juris, Ruling Case Law, L. R. A., both original and new series, American Law Reports, Federal Cases, United States Reports, American Reports, American Decisions, American State Reports, English Ruling Cases, and British Ruling Cases; besides a great collection of other standard law books.

The library is kept up to date by the constant addition of new books as published. All of the published opinions of the courts of last resort of all the states of the United States during the last thirty-five years, together with the opinions of all the inferior Federal Courts and the intermediate Appellate Courts of the State of New York, are found in the library. We also have the statutes of the 48 States.

Self-Support

Lebanon being a town of only about 6,000 population, there is but little opportunity for one to work his way through the law school. A few obtain positions after arrival, but one should not come depending upon doing so.

Directions for New Students

New law students are advised, on their arrival in Lebanon, to inquire for Memorial Hall, where full information and advice will be given, and where they will matriculate.

SUMMER COURSE

There will be a summer course taught during the summer of 1931, continuing eight weeks. This course will cover the law of Banks and Banking, survey courses in Corporations, Partnership, Agency, Negotiable Instruments, Bailments, Carriers, and related business subjects. It will be found of great benefit to those beginning the study of law, as it will be an addition to the regular course, and will enable the student to spend the summer pleasantly and profitably.

This course is designed to benefit especially five classes of students:

1st. Those desiring to review.

2nd. Those desiring to prepare to take a regular course in law.

3rd. Those desiring to obtain a knowledge of law for use in business other than the practice of law.

4th. Those desiring to obtain a knowledge of law as part of a liberal education.

5th. Teachers who have time to study law only during the summer.

The summer course is especially valuable to the beginner as an experiment to enable him to determine whether to follow the law as a profession. If he decides not to be a lawyer, he may drop the law at the end of eight weeks, with a valuable fund of legal information and with the loss of but little time and money; otherwise, he can proceed to take the regular course.

Tuition for summer course	$40.00
University fee	5.00

The summer course will begin the second Monday in June, and continue eight weeks. It should be of especial interest to teachers, as it can be taken by them without interfering with their professional labors, and to bankers and bank employees, who may take the course in the summer, when their duties are least confining.

HONOR ROLL

With a view to indicating to some extent the influence of the Law School upon the country, it has been thought proper to give a list of some of the more prominent men who received their legal education here. The names here inserted are only a partial list.

Of about 4,500 graduates, and many more who took part of the course, hundreds have distinguished themselves at the bar and otherwise, whose names, for want of space, cannot be given in this issue.

The Faculty will thank all our alumni who will suggest names to be added to this roll hereafter.

In the Regular Course —Covering One Year

More than Ten Thousand pages of living law are actually read and recited.

A fair estimate of this course of One Year study compares most favorably with the amount of work covered by other law schools, in their two-year or even three-year courses.

To extend this same course over the time covered by other law schools would cost twice or three times as much as it does here.

The student who completes this One Year Course is prepared to pass the examination for license and to enter at once upon the practice of his profession in all the States—with few exceptions.

The Summer Course has its appeal to many who desire to review their law work, or make study along special lines or who cannot attend law courses at other seasons.

Students of Law may pursue studies in other departments of the University where their previous preparation and study hours allow, by paying the tuition and fees charged.
